The opportunity to teach others promotes leadership qualities and strengthens understandings. We will know our children. Knowledge of each child is paramount in providing appropriate learning opportunities for individuals. Children are monitored and assessed against developmental domains including social, emotional, cognitive and physical development. The timetabling of explicit teaching enables individual and small group interactions, assessments and deep instructional teaching responding to our children's needs. Learning

- encouraging understanding and awareness of the school rules

The school also implements the Restorative Practices strategy that seeks to repair relationships that have been damaged in a supportive environment.

RESTORATIVE PRACTICES APPROACH

Restorative Practice is a strategy that seeks to repair relationships damaged, including those damaged through bullying. It does this by bringing about a sense of remorse, restorative action and forgiveness by students.

Rationale

The rationale behind this approach is that when students reflect upon the harm they may have caused:

- they become remorseful and act restoratively
- teachers and students can focus on the unacceptable behaviour of students rather than their moral character
- this can lead to healthier interpersonal relations among members of the school community and learning that is more effective.

Application

Restorative Practice may be conducted with students most directly involved in an incident, where a student is asked to say how she or he has been affected and what needs to be done to put things right, or with a whole class. 'Circle Time' is a structured, regular occasion when a class group meets in a circle to speak, listen, interact, enhance relationships and share concerns. Classroom Circle times develop an understanding of self and others, emotional literacy and interpersonal skills. The key elements of circles are:

- Having positive relationships with classmates
- Understanding and valuing oneself
- Understanding and valuing others

The school's Student Engagement and Inclusion Policy describes the school community's shared expectations in the areas of student engagement, attendance and behaviour. The policy supports the rights and expectations of every member of the school community to engage in and promote a safe and inclusive educational environment. The policy also supports the school's capacity to respond to individual student circumstances and outlines a series of processes, actions and consequences developed in consultation with the school community.

CHILD SAFETY

Dohertys Creek College is a child safe environment. We actively promote the safety and wellbeing of all students, and all school staff are committed to protecting students from abuse or harm in the school environment, in accordance with their legal obligations including child safe standards.

KOORIE EDUCATION

Koorie is a contemporary collective or group term. Aboriginal people, whose traditional lands and waters exist within the boundaries that today frame the state of Victoria, are often collectively called Koorie peoples or Koories (sometimes spelt 'Koori').

Dohertys Creek College recognises and pays respect to our First Nations people. We pay respect to Elders past, present and emerging. We acknowledge that our school is built on Aboriginal land in a suburb named Truganina.

As First Nations peoples, the Koorie community holds a unique position within Victoria. Every single child comes from the lineages of rich and unique heritage of this country, and carries this forward into the future for generations of our people to come, as well as for all Australians.

In its constitution, the Victorian Parliament recognises Victoria's Aboriginal people as the original custodians of the land on which the Colony of Victoria was established; with a unique status as the descendants of Australia's first people. The constitution further recognises that Aboriginal People have a spiritual, social, cultural and economic relationship with their traditional lands and waters within Victoria, and have made a unique and irreplaceable contribution to the identity and well-being of Victoria (Constitution Act 1975).

We are committed to following the protocols outlined by VAEAI which outline the fundamental principles, procedures and behaviours requested of the education sector in Victoria in order to demonstrate respect to Koorie communities in Victoria.

We will ensure we do not override the discrete cultural values and practices in our local Koorie communities. We will work with VAEAI, LAECGs, KESOs, DET Murrung committee, local schools and networks in order to develop sound school partnerships required for positive and progressive school practice.

For Koorie children

Every Koorie child in Victoria is precious. We honour our Koorie children, a commitment which starts in early childhood and continues throughout life.

Our core values are nurture and aspiration:

- to nurture each and all Koorie children as they grow to become custodians and protectors in their communities of their unique heritage, and contribute this special heritage to the whole Victorian community; and
- to provide education and training services and pathways which will wholly meet their aspirations for success in their own lives and families.

Strategy and actions recommended by our Koorie community are:

- child-centred, and individual-focused – self-determination in policy and in action
- family oriented and success oriented – family-determination in policy and in action from early childhood onwards
- unapologetically proactive in addressing 'closing the gap', for vulnerable children, where the data shows a continuing gap in participation and outcomes between Koorie Victorians and other Victorians – no gap is acceptable in today's world
- respectful of gender.

Further to the final dot point, aspects of teaching to our Koorie students which might extend into traditional, and sacred gender-held business, sometimes referred to as 'women's business' or 'men's business', need to be respected as such.

For all Victorian children

Education curricula from Foundation (Preparatory) Year through to Year 10 - aligned to the Australian Curriculum and delivered in Victoria through the Victorian Curriculum - are required to incorporate Aboriginal histories and cultures in their teaching program across most learning areas, so that all children are taught about the histories and heritage, cultures and perspectives of Australia's First Peoples.

All Victorian students need to learn to appreciate:

- the natural sovereignty which Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples held across Australia prior to invasion, colonisation and Federation; and still hold
- the major events which have affected Koorie communities since colonisation
- the richness of heritage which today's First Peoples hold for Australia and which benefits all Victorians, and the richness of our current living cultures
- the invaluable contribution of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander People to the development of this nation
- the Koorie community in Victoria are many peoples – incorporating 35-40 language groups³

- Victoria is also home today for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people from many groups from across other parts of Australia
- identity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people is determined only Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Dohertys Creek College is committed to providing culturally appropriate and inclusive programs to indigenous students though:

- following the Marrung strategy to ensure all Koorie Victorians achieve their learning aspirations and realise the full benefits of the Education State reforms across early childhood, schools and further education
- <http://www.education.vic.gov.au/about/programs/aboriginal/Pages/marrung.aspx>
- working in partnership with the Koorie Education Support Officers (KESOs) and the Koorie community to develop an understanding of Koorie culture and the interpersonal relationship with the Koorie community, for example via Local Aboriginal Education Consultative Groups (LAECG)
- supporting the development of high expectations and individualised learning plans for Koorie students
- creating an environment that respects, recognises and celebrates cultural identity through practice and curriculum
- implementing initiatives and programs that meet student needs and in partnership with the Koorie community.

CHILDREN IN OUT-OF-HOME CARE

We are public parents of children in out-of-home and as such, it is incumbent on us to ensure we fulfil our obligation as any good parent would.

Out-of-home care is a temporary, medium or long-term living arrangement for children and young people who cannot live in their family home.

We will hold high aspiration for our children in care and do what is needed to support their learning and wellbeing

Out-of-home care most commonly refers to statutory out-of-home care, where a child or young person cannot live with their family home and a legal order is in place to support the arrangement.

‘Statutory out-of-home care’ includes foster care, kinship care, permanent care and residential care. In Victoria, the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) has oversight of these arrangements.

Out-of-home care also includes ‘informal out-of-home care’ arrangements. Informal out-of-home care refers to an arrangement in which a child is living with someone other than his or her parent or legal guardian. DHHS usually does not have oversight of these arrangements.

Schools, child protection practitioners and caseworkers are required to meet their obligations under the Out-Of-Home Care Education Commitment: A Partnering Agreement.

Upon enrolment or entering out-of-home care:

- Enrol child or young person without delay
- Record out-of-home care status in the school’s student information record keeping mechanism (under ‘living arrangements’ in CASES21)
- Provide advice to the out-of-home carer about their eligibility for assistance via Camps, Sports and Excursions Fund and State Schools Relief (uniform)
- Liaise with the child or young person’s previous school or early childhood education service to ensure the transfer of relevant information including the Individual Education Plan or Transition Learning and Development Statement

For every student in out-of-home care, Doherty’s Creek College will:

- appoint a learning mentor (within the first term)
- assign a student support group (within the first week)
- develop an individual education plan (within the first week)
- develop an educational needs assessment (within the first term)
- nominate a designated teacher

Doherty's Creek College will champion students in out-of-home care and support LOOKOUT Centres advocacy.
