POLICY

1. School profile

Dohertys Creek College is a newly established school opening in 2019 with approximately 270 children, starting with P-6 and growing to Foundation (Prep) to Year 9 in future years. Year 2: 115
Year 3: 75
Year 4: 75
Year 5: 70
Year 6: 25

The College will expand to Year 7 in 2022, progressing through to Year 9 by 2024.

The school operates with the following structure:

- 2 Principal Class officers
- 2 Leading Teachers
- 2 Learning Specialists

Along with all of the above, the school will offer extracurricular and wellbeing programs as part of the school's syllabus. Programs will run over lunch or after school such as dance group, chess club, friendship club, mentoring, sport and others to assist in connecting children and families to school.

The safety and wellbeing of our school population is our highest priority and our first consideration.

We have zero tolerance of child abuse, and all allegations and safety concerns will be treated very seriously and consistently.

A commitment to the Child Safe Standards underpins our vision, mission, policies and procedures. We want children to be safe, happy and empowered. We support and respect all children, as well as our staff, volunteers and the parent community.

We are committed to the cultural safety of Aboriginal children if applicable, to the cultural safety of children from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds, and to providing a safe environment for children with a disability.

We have legal and moral obligations to contact authorities when we are worried about a child's safety, which we follow rigorously.

Any staff member who believes that a child is at immediate risk of abuse must phone 000.

Our school is committed to preventing child abuse and identifying risks early, and removing and reducing these risks.

Our recruitment practices are robust as we seek to employ skilled people to work with children.

We respect the privacy of all individuals, whether they are staff, volunteers, parents/carers or children. We have safeguards and practices in place to ensure any personal information is protected. Everyone is entitled to know how this information is recorded, what will be done with it, and who will have access to it.

Dohertys Creek College have developed specific school values with the community. These values are followed and modelled by all of our community.

We strongly endorse the following:

Every member of the school community has a right to fully participate in an educational environment that is safe, supportive and inclusive.

3. Engagement strategies

Dohertys Creek College aims to provide a stimulating, supportive and inclusive environment. The school acknowledges and celebrates individuality by having a positive view of the uniqueness of the learner while focussing on individual growth and the fostering of talents, skills and interests. We are committed to developing highly literate and numerate children, who can think critically, take risks, seize opportunities enthusiastically, are resilient and work collaboratively with others, while at the same time show respect, care and kindness for others.

The school has in place the following programs and policies which address child wellbeing and engagement at Dohertys Creek College:

- the values of openness and tolerance

We have built strong links with the community and aim to develop strong home school partnerships - involving families in as many ways as we can, including the classroom helpers' program, School Council, Grandparents' Days, assistance with incursions and excursions, family barbeque nights, whole school sports events, whole school assemblies, performing arts and other family events.

BEHAVIOURAL EXPECTATIONS

Discipline and Behaviour Management

The positive and responsible behaviour of children is essential to the smooth running of the school, to the achievement of optimal learning opportunities, and to the development of a supportive and cooperative school environment.

Every child deserves a safe and positive learning experience where they are engaged and supported to reach their full potential.

Policies and procedures relating to the discipline of children are based on principles of procedural fairness.

Dohertys Creek College is proactive in providing a positive learning environment. The school uses restorative practices as a positive approach to student behaviour. We are focussed on relationships and use our values such as kindness to focus on a positive model of 'how we are' at Dohertys Creek College. PATHs is used as an explicitly taught weekly social skills program from Foundation to Yr. 6.

The school has adopted a range of evidence-based strategies to positively engage children in learning and intervene early when problems arise. These include the:

- universal (school-wide) engagement strategies that create a safe, inclusive and empowering environment
 - targeted (population-specific) engagement strategies that meet the varied needs of vulnerable cohorts, including both prevention and intervention strategies
 - individual (student-specific) engagement strategies for children at risk, including strategies to identify and respond to individual student circumstances when regular attendance is not consistent or positive behaviours are not demonstrated.

Definitions

Corporal punishment is a form of physical punishment that involves the deliberate infliction of pain as retribution for an offence, or for the purpose of disciplining or reforming a wrongdoer, or to deter attitudes or behaviour deemed unacceptable.

Physical restraint means the use of physical force to prevent, restrict or subdue movement of a child's body or part of their body.

Seclusion is the involuntary confinement of a child alone in a room or area from which the child is physically prevented from leaving. This includes situations where a door is locked as well as where the door is blocked by other objects or held closed by staff. It does not include timeout, which is a behaviour management technique that is part of a Behaviour Support Plan, involves the monitored separation of the child in a non-locked setting, and is implemented for the purpose of calming.

BULLYING

Bullying is recognised globally as a complex and serious problem. It is a form of aggression, involving the abuse of power in relationships. It has many faces, including the use of emerging technologies, and varies by age, gender and culture. Conflict or fights between equals and single incidents are not defined as bullying. Bullying of any form or for any reason can have long-term effects on those involved including bystanders

Four kinds of bullying

Bullying can take a number of different forms. The Department of Education and Training's Building Respectful and Safe Schools (2010) identifies four types of bullying:

Physical bullying

Physical bullying includes hitting, kicking, tripping, pinching and pushing or damaging property.

Verbal bullying

Verbal bullying includes name calling, insults, teasing, intimidation, homophobic or racist remarks, or verbal abuse.

Covert bullying

Covert bullying is often harder to recognise and can be carried out behind the bullied person's back. It is designed to harm someone's social reputation and/or cause humiliation. Covert bullying includes;

- Lying and spreading rumours
- Negative facial or physical gestures, menacing or contemptuous looks
- Playing nasty jokes to embarrass and humiliate
- Mimicking unkindly
- Encouraging others to socially exclude someone
- Damaging someone's social reputation or social acceptance.

Cyberbullying

Cyberbullying is overt or covert bullying behaviours using digital technologies. Examples include harassment via a mobile phone, setting up a defamatory personal website or deliberately excluding someone from social networking spaces. Cyberbullying can happen at any time. It can be in public or in private, and sometimes is only known to the target and the person bullying.

Harassment is any verbal, physical or sexual conduct (including gestures) which is uninvited, unwelcome and which is reasonably likely to humiliate, offend, intimidate or distress a person. For example, teasing a student because of their speech impediment.

WHAT DOES NOT CONSTITUTE BULLYING

There are some behaviors which although unpleasant or distressing, are not bullying:

Mutual Conflict

In mutual conflict, an argument or disagreement exists between children but there is no imbalance of power. Both parties are upset and usually both want a resolution to the problem. However, unresolved mutual conflict sometimes develops into a bullying situation with one person becoming targeted repeatedly for 'retaliation' in a one-sided way.

Social Rejection or Dislike

Unless the social dislike is directed towards someone specific and involves deliberate and repeated attempts to cause distress, exclude or create dislike by others, it is not bullying.

Single-episodic acts of nastiness or meanness, or random acts of aggression or intimidation

Single sporadic acts of nastiness or physical aggression although unacceptable is not bullying. If a child is verbally abused or hurt by another child on only one occasion they are not being bullied. Single acts of nastiness or physical aggression that is directed towards many different children is not the same as bullying.

Dealing with Bullying at Dohertys Creek College

At Dohertys Creek College we are committed to the safety and welfare of all children. We are constantly striving to make school a place where children can have fun and feel safe and connected. We do not condone or accept bullying.

Our PATHS program, an explicitly taught weekly program is used to provide learning about how we interact with each other. Restorative practices are also used. We work hard to prevent and deal with bullying at Dohertys Creek College. Children are encouraged to report any bullying incidents to an adult and not to remain silent about it. Once identified, the bully, victim and witnesses will be spoken to, and all incidents or allegations of bullying will be fully investigated and documented. (Refer to Anti-Bullying & Child Welfare Policy and Child Code of Conduct)

- Staff will be provided with professional development training relating to bullying, cyber-bullying and harassment
- have ongoing professional learning about PATHs and support in implementing
- implement school curriculum programs that promote resilience, life and social skills, assertiveness, conflict resolution and problem solving
- clarify to their class at the start of each year the school policy on bullying
- follow school protocols and procedures when investigating bullying
- intervene and swiftly manage any bullying situation that is encountered or reported by a child or family
- contact families to discuss bullying incidents or other incidents of inappropriate behaviour
- inform families of any investigations undertaken and any follow up action
- ensure all reported incidents of bullying are followed up
- offer comfort and support to victims
- seek parental support and cooperation
- record incidents
- run cyber-bullying information sessions for parents each year
- include cyber safety as part of the delivered curriculum.

Parents will:

Watch for signs of bullying and alert the school if they believe their child is being bullied, rather than 'deal' with this themselves. The following signs could suggest a child is being bullied:

- have trouble getting out of bed
- not want to go to school
- change their method or route to school or become frightened of walking to school
- change their sleeping or eating patterns
- have frequent tears, anger, mood swings and anxiety
- have unexplained bruises, cuts and scratches
- have stomach aches or unexplained pain
- have missing or damaged belongings or clothes
- ask for extra pocket money or food
- arrive home hungry
- show an unwillingness to discuss, or secrecy about, their online communication.

STRATEGIES: THAT PARENTS CAN USE IF THEIR CHILD IS BEING BULLIED

Report any bullying matters immediately to the school. Discuss the situation with your child's classroom teacher or with a member of the school's leadership team.

Do not try and resolve the matter yourself by approaching any children or families. This tends to incite/inflame the matter even further.

Parents should try to obtain as many facts as they can through discussion with their child so that they can identify if there is a REPEATED pattern. Try to identify and write down:

- what happened
- who was involved on each occasion
- where and when these things happened
- whether there was any provocation on the part of the victim
- who witnessed each situation
- did anybody else see it, and, if so, who;
- when the bullying first began;
- what solutions you have tried so far; and

- the names of any teachers who are aware of the problem as soon as you have a reasonably clear picture of the situation and the facts let your child know that you are approaching the school.
- make an appointment with your child's teacher, assistant principal, principal or a member of the leadership team to discuss the matter (please ring the office to make an appointment so we may give the matter our full attention)

At the meeting:

- bring notes of the points you want to make at the meeting.
- present your concern and information in a calm way and try to work with the school to resolve the problem. Becoming angry, making accusations or demanding certain actions may make the situation worse.
- it can be helpful to remember that if you were originally unaware of the problem, then your child's teacher may also not have known of the situation.
- be patient. The school will need time to investigate the matter and speak to all the children and staff (if applicable) involved.
- ask to see the school's Anti-Bullying policy to see the school's approach to dealing with bullying.
- the school will contact you to discuss the outcome of the investigation and to outline the steps it will take to resolve the matter.
- arrange a further meeting to discuss the plan for dealing with the matter and any future bullying incidents.

STAGED RESPONSE

In general, student engagement, regular attendance and positive behaviours will be supported through relationship-based whole-school and classroom practices, including:

- establishing clear processes for children's management and attendance at school
- providing pro-active programs to promote engagement, positive behaviours and regular attendance.
- establishing predictable, fair and democratic classrooms and school environments
- ensuring children's participation in the development of classroom and whole school expectations
- providing personalised learning programs where appropriate for individual children
- consistently acknowledging all children
- empowering children by creating multiple opportunities for them to take responsibility and be involved in decision-making
- providing physical environments conducive to positive behaviours and effective engagement in learning

Inappropriate behaviours, including irregular attendance, will be responded to through a staged response, including:

- understanding the child's background and needs
- ensuring a clear understanding of expectations by children, parents/carers and teachers
- providing consistent school and classroom environments
- scaffolding the child's learning program
- communicating with the parents/carers
- specific monitoring of the child's behaviour and attendance
- providing pro-active programs

Broader support strategies will include:

- involving and supporting the parents/carers,
- involving the Principal, Welfare Officer, school psychologist, or other support person
- tutoring/peer tutoring
- mentoring and/or counselling

- convening Support Group meetings – the support group is an important component of the staged response for children facing difficulty with engagement, attendance or behaviour
- developing individualised flexible learning, behaviour or attendance plans
- providing broader educational programs, for example extra-curricular activities , lunch time programs
- involving community support agencies

CONSEQUENCES

The school will determine the standards of behaviour required and the consequences which may include:

- graded in-school disciplinary measures
- withdrawal of privileges
- withdrawal from class
- detention
- exclusion from school
- suspension
- expulsion

When determining consequences, corporal punishment is expressly forbidden. Physical restraint must only be used when it is immediately required to protect the safety of the child or any other person.

In some limited circumstances, it may also be necessary to restrain a child from violent or dangerous behaviours by secluding them in an area where such action is immediately required to protect the safety of the child or any other person.

Restraint and seclusion must not be included in a Behaviour Support Plan or be used as a routine behaviour management technique, to punish or discipline a child or to respond to:

- a child's refusal to comply with a direction, unless that refusal to comply creates an imminent risk to the safety of the child or another person
- a child leaving the classroom/school without permission, unless that conduct causes an imminent risk to the safety of the child or another person
- verbal threats of harm from a child, except where there is a reasonable belief that the threat will be immediately enacted
- property destruction caused by the child unless that destruction is placing any person at immediate risk of harm.

The use of mechanical restraints, restraints that cover a child's mouth or exclusion rooms are expressly prohibited.

The school may consider detention as a consequence but must ensure DET's guidelines are strictly observed.

The school may use suspension, but only when all other measures have failed and only for the shortest possible time.

Expulsion is a measure of last resort and DET guidelines must be followed to ensure ongoing schooling is provided. The right of appeal by parents/carers is acknowledged.

Ministerial Order 625 (Procedures for Suspension and Expulsion) took effect on 1 March 2014. The Order defines the grounds and process for suspensions, expulsions and appeals relating to expulsions of children in government schools. Only the Principal has authority to make the final decision to expel a child. This authority cannot be delegated.

Children who continue to demonstrate undesirable behaviours will be managed through a staged response which will involve an individualised management plan with support from appropriate external agencies if required. This will be managed through the establishment of a Support Group including membership of the child, parent/carer, relevant teachers, other agencies and member of the Leadership Team. This will be in accordance with DET policy. The role of the Support Group will be to better understand and provide for the child's needs including an Individual Learning Plan which may state behavioural goals.

Dohertys Creek College values its children and seeks to acknowledge those children who consistently demonstrate appropriate behaviours. Staff are expected to acknowledge those members of the school population acting appropriately.

As a school we must be careful to consistently apply consequences to students' actions. If a student does not follow the school's expectations and no response follows, the student is encouraged to assume that the school does not mind. Worse, there is a possibility that the student thinks we do not believe they are capable of the expected behaviours.

At all times, the school should scaffold ways towards better behaviour for students as far as they are capable. It is unacceptable to accept misbehaviour from any student who is capable of modifying their actions. As a school community we look for ways to equip students with better skills, habits and qualities. Compassion, high expectations and wisdom must be carefully blended to decide where this point lies for students, but we must still always aim high.

Punitive exclusions are a last resort (e.g. time out, detention, suspension, expulsion). As a school we aspire to their extinction, by making their use unnecessary rather than refusing to use them. It is important to examine the patterns of exclusion carefully, and to consider the context of exclusions in order to understand how appropriate they are.

All students have a right to learn. This means that if a student is making it difficult for a teacher to teach or students to learn, and in-class strategies have been attempted, students will be removed from the lesson temporarily until the situation can be resolved.

A restorative meeting or conversation to set the terms of reintegration should follow fixed period exclusions and possibly temporary removals. The restorative chat must lead to meaningful discussions about how to avoid recidivism, and to unpack problems that may provide context to the behaviour.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES STATEMENT

The school complies with the rights of the children under the Disabilities Discrimination Act 1992. The standards cover enrolments, participation in all aspects of school life, curriculum development, student support services and harassment and victimisation. 'Reasonable adjustments' are made to accommodate children's disabilities. The school's physical environment caters for children with disabilities as needed.

The school has considered in the development of these policy guidelines the following legislation which directly impacts on these Engagement and Inclusion guidelines.

- Equal Opportunity Act 1995
- Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006
- Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and Disability Standards for Education 2005
- Education and Training Reform Act 2006.

The school has a commitment to implementing programs that help children develop their social and emotional competencies.

Disciplinary measures that may be applied include:

- warning a student that their behaviour is inappropriate
- teacher controlled consequences such as moving a student in a classroom or other reasonable and proportionate responses to misbehaviour
- withdrawal of privileges

- referral to the Year Level Coordinator
- restorative practices
- detentions
- behaviour reviews
- suspension
- expulsion

Suspension and expulsion are measures of last resort and may only be used in particular situations consistent with Department policy, available at:

<http://www.education.vic.gov.au/school/principals/spag/participation/pages/engagement.aspx>

Corporal punishment is prohibited in our school and will not be used in any circumstance.

4. Engaging with families

Doherty's Creek College values the input of parents and carers, and we strive to support families to engage in their child's learning and build their capacity as active learners. We aim to be partners in learning with parents and carers in our school community.

We work hard to create successful partnerships with parents and carers by:

- ensuring that all parents have access to our school policies and procedures, available on our school website
- maintaining an open, respectful line of communication between parents and staff, supported by our Communicating with School Staff policy.
- providing parent volunteer opportunities so that families can contribute to school activities
- involving families with homework and other curriculum-related activities
- involving families in school decision making
- coordinating resources and services from the community for families
- including families in Student Support Groups, and developing individual plans for students.
- The need for a high rate of attendance will be articulated to parents and children. The Principal has a responsibility to ensure that attendance records are maintained and monitored at school. All primary student attendance is recorded in both the morning and the afternoon by teachers; Years 7 -9 attendance is recorded every period. Absences are aggregated on our CASES21 database and communicated to the Department of Education and Training. The Department of Education and Training and enrolment auditors may seek student attendance records. The Principal has a further responsibility to ensure that unexplained absences are investigated, and that high levels of absenteeism are adequately explained. The Principal, Assistant Principal and administration staff will contact (by phone) parents/carers of children with unexplained absences each day. The Principal/Assistant Principal will contact parents/carers of children with high levels of unexplained or unapproved absences, with the view to developing and implementing strategies to minimise absences. Ongoing unexplained absences, or lack of cooperation regarding child attendance will result in a formal attendance conference being organised. Unresolved attendance issues may be reported by the principal to the Department of Health Human Services, Child First and/or the Attendance Officer (Department of Education and Training - Regional Office).
- A return to school plan can be implemented to assist in the reintegration of children after a prolonged absence.

5. Evaluation

Doherty's Creek College will collect data each year to understand the frequency and types of wellbeing issues that are experienced by our students so that we can measure the success or otherwise of our school based strategies and identify emerging trends or needs.

Sources of data that will be assessed on an annual basis include:

- student survey data
- incidents data
- school reports
- parent survey
- case management
- CASES21
- SOCS
